Black History Month

Every February, people across Canada recognize Black History Month. On Fridays, we will be playing music by popular Black Artists. On Mondays and Wednesdays, and Fridays we will be reading Black Brilliance stories through the announcements. Have a look around the halls for some Black Brilliance posters as well.

During Black History Month, we celebrate the history and the many contributions of Black Canadians and their communities who have done so much to make Canada a great country. Black Canadians have been a part of shaping Canada's identity since the arrival of Mathieu Da Costa, a navigator, and interpreter, who arrived in Canada in the early 1600s. The role of black Canadians and their communities in Canada used to be ignored in Canada's history. For the month of February, we will be sharing some information about Black Brilliance on our announcements.
